Computer Laboratories

Computer Laboratories

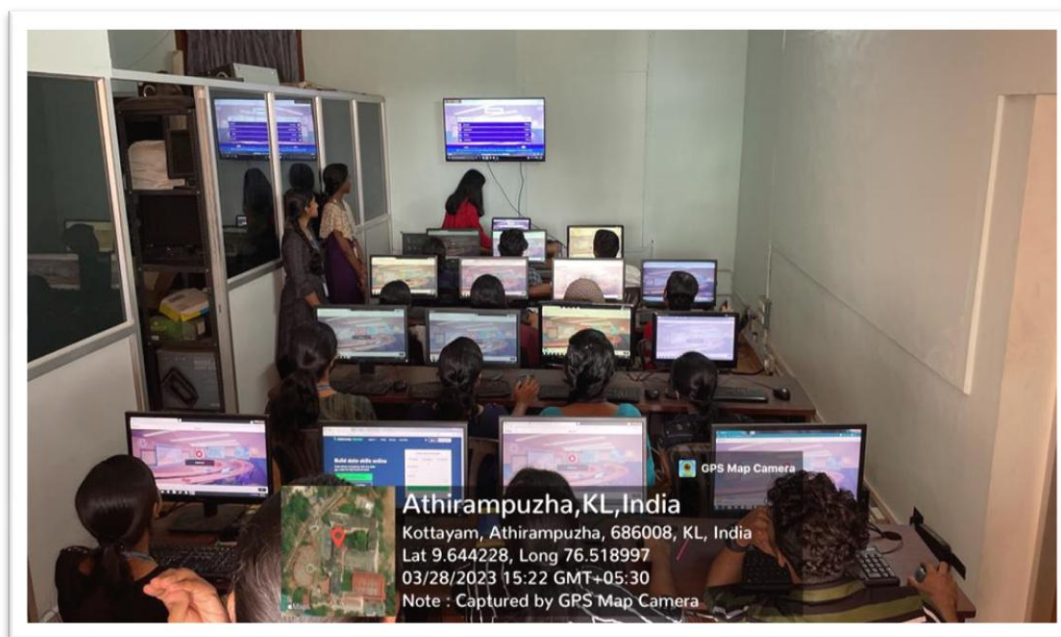

Computer laboratories in a college are specialized spaces outfitted with computers and related technology to assist students in their academic work. These laboratories are essential for supporting various educational activities, research, and practical skill development. The college offers four computer laboratories for student use: one Networking laboratories exclusively for PG students and 3 computer laboratories exclusively for UG students. In addition to this there is a Bioinformatics laboratory in the Zoology department, one computer laboratories each in the Physics, and Chemistry departments, a Data Science Studio for the Statistics department and dedicated browsing centre in the library.
