CERTIFICATE COURSE IN VERMICOMPOSTING

(Offered by Department of Zoology)

PROGRAMME OUTLINE

The Department of Zoology, Kuriakose College Mannanam is keen to instil love for nature in the young minds. We impart the principles of conservation and eco-friendly living among students. With immense pleasure we introduce a certificate course in Vermicomposting to inspire the youth to follow green practices for effective waste management.

WHO CAN ATTEND

Students of second year BSc. Zoology and Botany

DURATION

6 Months

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

- ✓ Study of morphological features of earthworm.
- ✓ Study of cocoons and juveniles.
- ✓ Identification of any two local and two exotic species of earthworms .
- ✓ Study of Vermicomposting equipments.
- ✓ Preparation of vermibeds.
- ✓ Vermicompost production, harvesting.
- ✓ Establishment of vermiwash unit.
- ✓ Study of Pests and diseases of Earthworms

SYLLABUS ON CERTIFICATE COURSE IN VERMICOMPOSTING

Theory Course

Vermiculture and Vermicomposting

MODULE I : VERMICULTURE

8 Hours

Unit 1: Introduction to Vermiculture

Definition, History and Scope of Vermiculture

Unit 2: Earthworm Biology

Habitat & Morphology of earthworms, Reproduction and Life Cycle. Ecological classification of earthworm: Epigeics, Anecics and Endogeic Worms. Physiological adaptations of earthworms.

Unit 3: Species of earthworms suitable for vermiculture

Indigenous species, common earthworm species of Kerala and Exotic species

Unit 4: Ecological Significance of Earthworms –

Importance of earthworms in maintaining physical and chemical properties of soil. Role of earthworms in medicine, agriculture and solid waste management.

Module II : VERMICOMPOSTING

16 Hours

Unit 5: General principles of vermicomposting technology - Biodegradation processes, Raw materials for composting, Sources of organic wastes for vermicomposting, Multiplication of earthworms, Two Major Phases in Vermicomposting - Active Phase, Maturation phase.

Unit 6 : Setting up of domestic vermicomposting system : Basic steps, site selection, Physical factors : temperature, sunlight, moisture, Aeration, Chemical factors : pH, Ammonia, Salt Content.

Unit 7: Types of vermicomposting -Soil pit vermicomposting and Tanks above the Ground - Cement Rings, Two tank system, Four Tank System, Commercial Model, Windrows.

Unit 8: Maintenance and Monitoring : Feeding, Harvesting - Manual methods, Migration method, rotating Trommel and Divide and Dump, Storage of Vermicompost, Advantages of Vermicompost.

Paper II-Water Analysis- 3 Credits

Paper III-Practical- 6 Credits

Paper IV-Field Work, Project and Training- 8 Credits

ELIGIBILITY

Degree students from science stream who had completed their first semester course with chemistry as part of the study as core or complementary subject.

PAPER 1-FUNDAMENTALS OF ANALYTICAL CHEMISTRY. 3 CREDITS

1. Instrumental Techniques - Classification of basic instrumental methods of chemical analysis. Procedure and protocol. Recording laboratory data. Advantages and limitations of instrumental methods and chemical methods. Outline study of basic function of instrumentation-signal to noise ratio, sensitivity and detection limit.

2. Major steps in solving analytical problems. Areas of analytical chemistry, problems, steps and methods of analysis. Types of errors, precision and accuracy (Principle only)

3. Good laboratory habits-weighing techniques, analytical balance, electronic balance, errors in weighing. Graduated glasswares, calibration of graduated apparatus.

4. Common laboratory operations-preparing substance for analysis, weighing the sample, dissolving the sample, precipitation filtration, filter papers, filtering. crucibles, washing precipitates, drying and igniting precipitates. Use of spread sheets in analytical chemistry

5. Instrumental methods of analysis- Brief introduction to UV/Vis spectroscopy, IR Spectroscopy, Nephelometry, Turbidimetry, Conductometric Measurements, PH and its determination, potentiometry and chromatography

principal@kecollege.ac.in

0481-2597074 (Principal)

+91 8174154846

1. Types of water pollution- Physical, Chemical, biological and physiological pollution of water. Ground water pollution - harmful effects, protection of ground water from pollution. Surface water pollution- Factors affecting surface water, sources of surface water pollution, protection of surface water from pollution.
2. Sources of water pollution - sewage and domestic wastes, industrial effluents, agricultural discharges, fertilizers, detergents, toxic metals and siltation. Eutrophication-types, effects and control.
3. Problems of Vembanad lake and Kuttanadu region a case study of ecological disturbance due to environmental degradation (Brief study).
4. Water quality Parameters determination of water quality parameters like PH acidity, alkalinity, dissolved oxygen, B.O.D, C.O.D, turbidity, hardness- temporary and permanent, nutrients-chloride, sulphate, silicate, nitrate and phosphate.

PAPER III-PRACTICAL- 6 CREDITS

Water Analysis determination of colour, turbidity, PH, EC dissolved solids, suspended matter, acidity, alkalinity, nutrients such as chloride, sulphate, silicate, nitrate and phosphate, D.O, B.O.D, C.O.D, organic pollutants/metallic pollutants and total coliforms

2018-19

- ▶ Course Duration : 30 Hours
- ▶ Course Period : June - March

ABOUT THE COURSE

The Certificate Course in Life Skills in Communication, offered by the Department of English, is designed to equip students with essential communication skills that are vital for personal and professional success. Over a period of 30 hours, spread from June to March, students will delve into various facets of communication, ranging from interpersonal skills to digital communication, with a strong emphasis on practical application.

KEY MODULES

1. Introduction to Life Skills in Communication
 - Understanding the core communication skills.
 - Overcoming barriers to effective communication.

2. Interpersonal Skills and Emotional Intelligence
 - Building and maintaining positive relationships.
 - Conflict resolution and empathy.
3. Public Speaking and Presentation Skills
 - Overcoming stage fright and structuring speeches.
 - Engaging the audience effectively.
4. Written Communication Skills
 - Mastering formal and informal writing.
 - Email etiquette and report writing.
5. Digital Communication and Information Technology
 - Introduction to digital communication tools.
 - Safe practices in online communication.
6. Group Activities and Practical Sessions
 - Role-playing, group discussions, and presentation practice.
 - Mock interviews for real-world preparation.

COURSE OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will:

1. Communicate effectively in both verbal and written forms, with adaptability to various contexts.
2. Develop strong interpersonal skills, fostering positive relationships in all spheres of life.
3. Gain proficiency in digital communication tools, understanding the importance of cybersecurity.
4. Deliver structured and engaging presentations with confidence.
5. Apply emotional intelligence in communication, demonstrating empathy and active listening.

COUNSELLING AND PSYCHOTHERAPY- SYLLABUS

Introduction

The Certificate Course in Counseling and Psychotherapy, offered by the P.G. Department of Social Work at K.E. College, was conducted in collaboration with the Integrated Centre for Counseling and Psychotherapy (ICCP). This course aimed to equip students with theoretical knowledge and practical skills in counseling and psychotherapy, essential for their professional development in social work and related fields. The course was designed to provide a comprehensive understanding of counseling techniques, theories, and practical applications.

Course Details

Duration and Structure

- Total Duration: 60 hours
- Conducted By: Integrated Centre for Counseling and Psychotherapy (ICCP)
- Participants: 29 students from the Master of Social Work (MSW) department

Curriculum Overview

The course was structured to include both theoretical and practical components:

1. Theoretical Classes:

- Introduction to Counseling and Psychotherapy: Basic concepts, historical development, and key theories.
- Counseling Techniques: Various counseling models and techniques, including cognitive-behavioural therapy (CBT), psychodynamic therapy, and humanistic approaches.
- Ethics and Professional Standards: Ethical guidelines, confidentiality, and professional behaviour.
- Assessment and Diagnosis: Tools and methods for assessing client needs and diagnosing mental health issues.

2. Practical Training:

- Role-Playing and Simulations: Hands-on practice through role-playing exercises to simulate real-life counseling scenarios.
- Client Interaction: Supervised sessions where students provided counseling to clients, gaining practical experience and receiving feedback.
- Case Studies: Analysis of real or hypothetical case studies to apply theoretical knowledge to practical situations.

principal@kecollege.ac.in

0481-2597074 (Principal)

+91 8174154846

3. Assessment and Evaluation

- Methods for assessing client needs
- Techniques for evaluating counseling effectiveness
- Documentation and record-keeping

Course Implementation

Teaching Methodology

- Lectures: Delivered by experienced professionals from ICCP, covering theoretical aspects of counseling and psychotherapy.
- Interactive Sessions: Included discussions, case studies, and role-plays to enhance practical understanding.
- Practical Exercises: Provided hands-on experience in counseling techniques and client interaction.

Evaluation and Certification

- Examinations: The course concluded with examinations that tested both theoretical knowledge and practical skills.
- Performance: All 29 students successfully passed the exams with commendable scores, reflecting their understanding and application of the course material.
- Certification: Certificates were awarded to all students who completed the course, acknowledging their proficiency in counseling and psychotherapy.

Outcomes and Feedback

Student Performance

- Achievement: All enrolled students passed the examinations with good scores, demonstrating their grasp of the course content and practical skills.
- Skills Acquired: Students gained valuable insights into various counseling techniques, ethical practices, and client interaction strategies.

Feedback

- Positive Responses: Students appreciated the blend of theory and practical training, noting that the hands-on experience significantly enhanced their learning.
- Suggestions for Improvement: Some students suggested extending the duration of practical sessions for deeper engagement and more comprehensive skill development.

Conclusion

The Certificate Course in Counseling and Psychotherapy successfully met its objectives by equipping students with essential counseling skills and knowledge. The integration of theory with practical training provided a well-rounded educational experience. The positive outcomes and student feedback indicate that the course was effective in enhancing the professional competencies of the MSW students.
